

Rule of planning, implementation and evaluation of practical component

The present Regulation sets out the matters of planning, implementation and assessment procedures of practice at the International Teaching University of Management and Communication (hereinafter "Teaching University").

The goal of the practice is to make the student directly acquainted with the activities of the practice object (enterprise, organization, institution) and to develop practical skills; Facilitating the strengthening and enhancement of the knowledge obtained in academic environment at the Teaching University; Developing new knowledge and competences; Establishment of accurate representation of the main professional tasks in students and ways of their solution, preparing for future professional activities on basis of establishing and developing practical skills.

The student is obliged to undergo a practice in a partner institution or locally at the Teaching University.

In accordance with the educational program, the student's practical training is conducted in the local structural unit and aims at making use of professional theoretical knowledge in practice among the students and developing other transferable skills taking into account market demands.