

Concept of E- Journal "Challenges of Modern Science"

"Modern Science Challenges" is a scientific electronic journal to be created on the base of International Teaching University of Management and Communication "ALTERBRIDGE".

The main priority of "Modern Science Challenges" is to give researchers, students, graduates the opportunity to present their papers before a wide audience.

"Modern Science Challenges" accepts works from both, Georgia as well as from abroad. This contributes to the internationalization of scientific potential of researchers, students and mutual cooperation policy.

While reviewing the articles, the editorial board of the electronic journal pays great attention not only to the actuality of the work, the nature or value of the research, but also to the technical side (organizing, cited works, grammatical correctness).